Festus and Virgil

We who carve little figures don't have much space.
To cut in eye sockets and whittle eyes in a face.

So we take out our paint and dab on two eyes.
That often do justice to our little guys.

Painted eyes are done quickly, they aren't too ornate.
Why whittle the eyes? They seldom look great.

Here are two 'Lil' Guys' I've placed on my shelf.
The eyes are quite fetching, Why not carve one yourself?
